

Biography
Andrea E. Chapdelaine, Ph.D.

Andrea E. Chapdelaine became the 11th president of Hood College July 1, 2015.

President Chapdelaine has more than two decades of experience in higher education, including serving as provost and chief academic officer at Albright College in Reading, Pa. from 2006 to 2015. She also served as dean of undergraduate studies and as a psychology faculty member there beginning in 1998. In addition to her presidency, she is a professor of psychology.

She earned a doctorate and a master's degree in social psychology from the University of Connecticut after she graduated cum laude from the University of New Hampshire with a bachelor's degree in psychology and a minor in justice studies.

President Chapdelaine and her husband, David Tetreault, who are both from Massachusetts, have two sons, Daniel and Benjamin.